

Content update — what was added

blushpicnic.com · live since deploy run #11 (pull request #8), 7 October 2026 · this report written 8 October 2026

After the audit fixes (see the 7 October report), the site's newer pages were still thin: the room decor and hamper pages explained the service in a few lines, the services hub listed the five services without helping a visitor choose, and the FAQ had no questions about proposals, dome picnics, room decor or hampers. This round fills those gaps. Every new sentence is built from facts already on the site or in your brief; no prices, policies, inclusions or claims were invented, and prices still read "Starting at ... before HST".

1. Room decor page (/room-decor)

- What to tell us. Four cards that mirror the booking form's own questions: the room (home, hotel, Airbnb or rental, somewhere else, and its address), the date and time, colours and the words for the sign (up to 7 words), and who it's for (the surprise questions: who's being surprised, who knows, how they'll arrive, whether the team stays hidden or leaves).
- Room decor questions. Six FAQs in an accordion: do you do room decor, what can you set up in a room, can it be a surprise, is there a security deposit, is there a travel fee, when is the balance due. Marked up as FAQ structured data for Google.
- Section order tidied: What we can style → What to tell us → Occasions it suits → How it works → How it's priced → Questions → call to action.

2. Hampers page (/hampers)

- What to tell us. Who it's for and what they love (or the vision for a custom hamper), when it should arrive (midnight or during the day, with a backup date), where (the delivery address; the area sets the travel fee), and the card message.
- How hamper delivery works. Three steps: send a request or an Instagram DM; we reply within 5 hours with what we'd put together and the quote; it arrives at the door at the chosen time with the card inside. No deposit sentence here, because nothing is rented for a hamper.
- Hamper questions. Six FAQs: birthday hampers, custom hampers, adding a message, where we deliver, security deposit (none), travel fee.

3. Services hub (/services)

- Which one fits? A guide that starts from the moment rather than the menu: outdoors or with a view → a picnic; asking the question → a proposal; indoors → room decor; can't be there or it's a gift → a birthday hamper; something specific in mind → a custom hamper. Each line links to the service page.
- Whichever you choose. Four things that hold for every service: reply within 5 hours; Toronto and the GTA with a travel fee by area; starting prices before HST that vary by location; picnics, proposals and room decor are delivered, set up, styled and cleared away, hampers delivered to the door.

4. FAQ page (/faq): eleven new questions

6. Still waiting on you

- Room decor venues: the site says “at home, in a hotel or in a rental”; confirm hotels and Airbnbs are places you decorate.
- The closing line of /policies (“By paying your deposit ... you agree”): keep or remove.
- Prices for travel by area, dome picnic, table & chair setup and the unpriced add-ons; Simple Picnic inclusions and extra-guest price; hamper contents and prices.
- About-page story and photo; alcohol policy; payment methods; GA4 / Meta IDs; real photos to replace the AI stand-ins (drop them in the Drive folder).
- If the old pages still show, clear the Hostinger cache once.
